Sub: Surveillance Obligations for Trading Members – Update

This is in partial modification of Exchange notice nos. 20130307-21 dated March 07, 2013 and 20190205-54 dated February 05, 2019, wherein the trading members were advised about surveillance obligations of trading members to facilitate effective surveillance at the members end, inter-alia, covering processing of transactional alerts provided by the Exchange \(list attached as Annexure I\) as well as own alerts generated by the trading members at their end based on their surveillance policy and suitable actions thereof.

In this regard, trading members are hereby informed that, the Exchange has reassessed the on-going framework of surveillance obligations of trading members and has identified enhancements to make the said framework more effective, as under -

1. Obligation of Trading Members to frame Surveillance Policy:

Trading members may have different types of business models and may offer different types and combination of services to different types of clients including retail, institutional, HNI through various modes like Call and Trade, Mobile based trading, Internet based trading, Portfolio Management Services (PMS), in addition to proprietary trading (including Algorithmic trading). For effective monitoring, trading member shall frame a surveillance policy covering all such applicable business models / services they offer. The said surveillance policy shall, inter alia, cover the following:

- 1.1. Generation of suitable surveillance alerts which may be guided by indicative themes (the list is inclusive and not exhaustive) given in Para 2 below as well as for transactional alerts downloaded by the Exchanges. (Transactional alerts downloaded by the Exchange are based on some thresholds or parameters. Trading members may have their own different thresholds or parameters so as to detect any suspicious trading activity). As trading members have closer supervision and are in possession of considerably more information about their clients, they may consider suitable parameters.
- 1.2. Processing of alerts within 45 days from the date of alerts downloaded by the Exchanges as well as alerts generated at member's end.
- 1.3. Documentation of reasons for any delay in disposition of any of the alerts.
- 1.4. Suspicious / Manipulative activity identification.
- 1.5. Framework of appropriate actions, that can be taken by the Trading member. In addition to the obligations under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), actions may include suspension of the trading activity of the suspect client, or any other action as may be deemed appropriate.
- 1.6. Record maintenance for the period as stipulated under applicable statutes.

The surveillance policy of the Trading member shall be approved by its Board (in case of corporate trading member), Partners (in case of partnership firms) or Proprietor (in case of sole proprietorship firm) as the case may be.

This policy needs to be reviewed on a periodic basis to keep it in line with the market trends.

2. Obligation of Trading Members to generate additional Surveillance alerts:

It is reiterated that in addition to the transactional alerts downloaded by Exchanges, Trading members are also required to generate appropriate surveillance alerts at their end, to enable them to effectively monitor the trading activity of their clients at their end as per the laid down surveillance policy.

The indicative themes on which trading members may formulate their own alerts are as under. The trading member also needs to analyze patterns and trends with respect to different themes.

- 2.1. The indicative themes applicable to ALL Trading Members.
 - 2.1.1. Client / group of clients, as identified by the trading member, accounting for a significant percentage of the total trading activity in a scrip / contract as compared to the market.
 - 2.1.2. Client / group of clients with new account or clients dealing after a significant time gap, as identified by the trading member, accounting for significant value / percentage of total trading activity in a scrip / contract as compared to the market.
